1. In response to the above reference, GABBIE is prepared to accept and train the six W/T trainees as scheduled for the end of February contingent, of course, upon clearances and completion of request for training data which can be rendered through [] office and set forth in 38-CAGFG.

2. Regarding the trainees for agent and survival type operations, GABBIE can accept them when they are processed and ready. It will be necessary, however, to train them at a site other than Bad Tolz, complying specifically with requirements for better security provisions.

3. GABBIE is thoroughly capable of fulfilling any training requirement that BGFIEND may formulate, provided that sufficient information is submitted in advance stipulating number of trainees, length of training desired, specific time for training to be scheduled, and the usual authority which regulates training requisites preceding the induction of trainees.

4. GABBIE is confronted with a wide variety of conditions which effect the training of diversified groups, hence details of programming, selection, scope, and treatment of subject material must be altered to fit specific project desires. In view of that, it is necessary to have ample advance notification for planning purposes, especially in the training of intelligence and contact missions which you predict.

6. Training of Guard Co. cadres poses a new series of problems which have not been resolved and which may considerably alter the over-all magnitude of training wherein it effects Guard Companies. The following is, therefore, submitted from Para 5, in 586-CFGMC, for your information and guidance since it deals with a situation which is closely related to problems and conditions in your sphere of interests.

7. It is suggested that BGFIEND representative, contact ☐ and coordinate details so as to avoid contradictions of EUCOM regulations. In view of the above, it becomes imperatively essential that EUCOM requirements be strictly adhered to since circumvention of the established policy could likely lead to undesirable repercussions of the Guard Company scheme in its relation to the training mission.

In view of that, it is necessary to have ample advance notification for planning purposes, especially in the training of intelligence and contact missions which you predict.

5. Your estimate of BGFIEND Training requirements for the next eighteen months is warmly appreciated and GABBIE will exert its utmost efforts to comply with the recommendations for agent training as contained in 41-CAGFG.

6. Training of Guard Co. cadres poses a new series of problems which have not been resolved and which may considerably alter the over-all magnitude of training wherein it effects Guard Companies. The following is, therefore, submitted from Para 5, in 586-CFGMG, for your information and guidance since it deals with a situation which is closely related to problems and conditions in your sphere of interests.

"With regard to the Landsberg location, it should be pointed out that in already having started recruitment for your Labor Service units, and in giving enlistees special training, you have violated a EUCOM principle which applies to all Labor Services, i.e., they insist that no unit be given any special training that would designate them as being of a category different from other Labor Service companies. This point is a delicate one with EUCOM and should be kept in mind when wholesale enlistment for these companies begins. Labor Service as such is a completely overt employment mechanism, and EUCOM frowns upon our training the units in any way that conflicts with standard procedures. We are, as you know, planning special training of Labor Service groups in our installation at Grafenwohr." Signed: []
